

Event title: Community screening of FNZ film

Date of event: Monday 25th March 2024

Host: FNZ team at Stoke Climsland Parish Hall

On Monday 25th March, we showed the Farm Net Zero Community Film at Stoke Climsland Parish Hall. This event was very well attended by members of the local community, drummed up by Bonny Lightfoot and Martin Howlett, FNZ monitor farmers and stars of the film. Following the screening, there was a panel session with the farmers where attendees were able to ask questions on climate change, biodiversity and how the project farmers are working together to address these issues.

We ended the session with the farmers' visions of farming in the future, with all agreeing that there will be more of a mix and integration between farming and nature.

Key takeaways:

- All attendees agreed that farming in the future will involve more of a mix and integration between farming and nature
- Understanding of how FNZ project farmers are working together to address issues of climate change and biodiversity
